The condition of the miners in some of the coal mines in Pennsylvania is very little removed from absolute slavery. They are compelled to buy what they need from the company stores, which charge them what they see fit, and the result frequently is that after working a month and settling up the miner is in the company's debt. That was the case at Latimer, where the shooting of those striking miners occurred.

There is a factory being built in Davenport, Iowa, to convert soft coal into hard coal. The soft coal is crushed, the non-heat-producing elements eliminated and the dust compressed into small blocks. It is said that the product for heat giving purposes will be far superior to the best hard coal and can be sold much cheaper.

Mr. Hannis Taylor has achieved more celebrity by his "Review of the Cuban Question" in the North American Review than he did as Minister to Spain. There may be some question as to the propriety of his writing that paper, but there is no question that he hit Spain some pretty hard raps and made a tiptop argument for Cuba.

Attention is called to the fact that so far in all the yellow fever area in this country there have been only 4,621 deaths. That may be a pretty small showing for Yellow Jack, but it is just 4,621 too many from a disease which with proper care is preventable.

A rifle has been brought out for the use of sportsmen which will kill a deer at a distance of 2,200 yards. We have our opinion of a sportsman who would use a gun like that and take such a mean advantage of a deer.

Judging from the divorce records women can stand a good deal more marital meanness than men. There are in the United States 79,300 divorced persons, of whom 44,583 are men and 35,218 women.

Before U. S. Commissioner Bunting.

David Neal, colored, was arraigned in United States Commissioner R. H. Bunting's court yesterday, charged with being implicated in stealing lead from the U. S. cutter Lot M. Morrill. Last week in the United States District Court Amos Jones was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in jail for stealing lead from the Morrill, and Neal was arrested charged with being engaged in the same action. After hearing all the testimony in the case Commissioner Bunting bound the defendant over to the U. S. District Court in the sum of $200. Neal failed to give the bond required and was committed to jail.

Police Couldn't Catch Faircloth.

So far the police have been unsuccessful in their efforts to capture John Faircloth, colored, who severely stabbed with a knife Walter Banks, colored, yesterday morning about 12 30 o'clock at the corner of Front and Princess streets. It was reported at the City Hall yesterday about 2 o'clock that Faircloth was at Front street market, but if Faircloth was there the police were unable to find him, although they made a thorough search.

CORA VAN TASSELL COMPANY

In Trouble at Goldsboro and Fayetteville—Engagement for Wilmington Cancelled.

The Cora Van Tassell Company will not play a week's engagement at the Opera House, commencing on the evening of the 23d inst., as booked. The troupe lately have been seeing rough times; last week in Greensboro Miss Van Tassell worked herself into a state of nervousness over a dressing room assigned for her at the Academy of Music and was unable to go upon the stage the first night of her engagement. Matters were patched up and the company then played a three night's engagement in Fayetteville, ending Saturday night last. The Fayetteville Observer of Monday afternoon contained an account of how Manager Frank W. Lane, of the company, absconded and left the troupe stranded in that place. The article went on to state that the company would resume their tour, playing at Goldsboro last night. Their engagement in this city will not, however, be filled, as Manager Schloss, of the Opera House, received a postal card from Frank W. Lane, the alleged absconded manager, dated Norfolk, Va., the 7th inst., cancelling the company's engagement in this city. Lane blames Miss Van Tassell for his and the company's trouble. So, as Manager Schloss' contract was made with Lane, the engagement will be declared off.

Mr. Schloss states that he will on no account allow the Van Tassell Company to renew their engagement, and he is in hopes of booking a much superior attraction for that week now open.

TO-NIGHT AT THE Y. M. C. A

The Chrysanthemum Show—Magnificent Display of Flowers—Rare Entertainment—Refreshments, Etc.

The Chrysanthemum Show commences at the Young Men's Christian Association to-night and the display of flowers will be magnificent and furnish a wonderful feast to the eye. There will be chrysanthemums from this city and many other places in the State exhibited. The different committees have completed all arrangements, so nothing will be found lacking. The awarding of the prizes will be made just previous to the show to-night, and it will prove a difficult task, as there are so many chrysanthemums of rare variety and beauty.

One of the pleasing features included in the show, and for which no extra admission will be charged, will be the entertainment given each night in the auditorium. To-night this part of the evening's enjoyment will be entirely in charge of Mrs. W. H. Shaw, and the entertainment, which is of a delightful nature, is entitled "Building of the Temple."

To-morrow evening a select programme of music, etc., will be arranged, and among those who will participate are Miss Mary Lilly Kenan, Miss Nellie Calder, Miss Fair Payne and Miss Hattie Taylor.

At any time during the evening refreshments can be obtained. The parlors of the building have already been decorated in an artistic manner. The price of admission is only fifteen cents.

ROARING IRISH COMEDY.

"McFee's Matrimonial Bureau" at the Opera House To-night.

"McFee's Matrimonial Bureau," a roaring Irish comedy, will be presented at the Opera House to-night by a cast of twenty five artists of ability.

The Nashville (Tenn.) American of Tuesday morning, October 19th last, says:

"McFee's Matrimonial Bureau" is one of the cleverest of the divers farces that have honored Nashville during the season; its only raison d'etre is fun, and the term is no misnomer. It deals with the doings of two Irish financiers, Messrs. McFee and Barney Maguire, both of whom have a penchant for the fair sex and both of whom attempt to carry on a matrimonial business for the benefit of suffering humanity. The consequent misery of the would-be match-makers is the theme for numerous mishaps and comical situations. The production is not hampered with more than a suspicion of a plot and gives splendid opportunities for individual work. Miss Lillian Murray Knott and Mr. J. W. Gurville are as clever a pair as have been in Nashville for many a day. They furnish some brilliant and artistic musical numbers throughout the piece; their "Kiss" and "Telephone" duets brought down the house. There are few dull moments in the production, which is varied throughout with dancing and music that is highly artistic and pleasing. Notwithstanding the strong opposition the piece opened to a packed house.

Seats are now on sale at Gerken's.

W. L. I. Rifle-Shoot.

Thanksgiving Day, in the morning, the active members of the Wilmington Light Infantry and the members of the reserve corps of the same company will compete against each other in a rifle-shoot at Hilton. Arrangements have also been made for a picked team from the ranks of the Light Infantry to contest in a shoot on the same day with a team picked from the ranks of the Naval Reserves. A prize will be awarded the victorious teams; so an exciting shoot and a close score will, no doubt, be the result.

Concert Postponed.

The concert announced to take place at the Young Men's Christian Association Friday night for the benefit of the Catherine Kennedy Home has been postponed for several days. This change was necessary on account of the indisposition of several of the participants. The date when the concert will be given will be announced shortly, and then the public will have an opportunity offered to enjoy a rare musical treat.

Chrysanthemums for the Show.

A large box of chrysanthemums was received yesterday from Newbern. They were shipped by Mr. W. H. Oliver, of Newbern, for Mrs. T. A. Green. The lot includes many different varieties, all garden grown.

ANNUAL INSPECTION.

Wilmington Light Infantry and Naval Reserves—By Col. B. S. Royster, Inspector General—Both Commands Highly Complimented.

The annual inspection of the Wilmington Light Infantry and the Naval Reserves, two military organizations which the people of Wilmington feel justly proud of, took place last night, conducted by Col. B. S. Royster, of Oxford, Inspector General, N. C. S. G., who arrived in the city via the Atlantic Coast Line yesterday afternoon at 5 45 o'clock. The inspection of the Light Infantry took place at 8 30 o'clock on the lawn in the rear of the company's handsome armory, Lieutenant Colonel Walker Taylor, of this city, Second Regiment, was present and assisted in the inspection. The W. L. I. boys presented a natty appearance, with full ranks.

After this inspection, Col. Royster, accompanied by Col. Taylor and the officers of the W. L. I., Captain Don. McRae, First Lieutenant C. H. White and Second Lieutenant R. H. Cowan went to the armory of the Naval Reserves, where the sailor boys, looking fresh and neat in their spotless suits of white, were inspected. The officers of the Reserves in attendance were Lieutenant Commander H. H. McIlhenny, Ensign H. L. Miller and Junior Lieutenant R. H. McKoy.

The Boys' Brigade of Immanuel Presbyterian church, under command of Col. Taylor, were reviewed by Col. Royster at the W. L. I. armory.

Owing to business engagements Col. John F. Bruton, of Wilson, Second Regiment, State Guard, who was invited by the Wilmington Light Infantry, with which company he is a great favorite, to visit the city as a guest of the company and be present last night, was absent.

AT THE W. L. I. ARMORY.

While the Naval Reserves were being inspected a scene of jollity was in progress in the handsome assembly hall of the Light Infantry armory. All the privates and non-commissioned officers of the company were present enjoying piano recitals and vocal selections rendered by their comrades. Col. John L. Cantwell was called upon for a speech, and responded in an eloquent manner, paying high tribute to the company, telling of the high stand the company had always possessed throughout its existence, and speaking feelingly of departed members of the company. About this time Capt. McRae, Lieut. White and Lieut. Cowan returned and ushered into the hall Col. S. B. Royster, Col. Walker Taylor, Lieut. H. H. McIlhenny, Ensign H. L. Miller and Junior Lieut. R. H. McKoy.

Upon being called upon for a speech, Col. Royster responded in a few well chosen and humorous remarks. He said that he was glad to be in Wilmington, as he had many personal friends here, and when he departed he would feel like he had made more; that the members of the Light Infantry and Naval Reserves had passed a most excellent inspection, and that the people of North Carolina should feel proud of the two military companies New Hanover county possesses. Continuing, Col. Royster said that the Light Infantry had a veteran of many wars in its ranks (pointing to Col. L. Cantwell), and one pleasure he had gained by his visit was meeting that most distinguished gentleman; and that he (Royster) felt gratified at the cordial reception he had received.

Col. Taylor was next called upon and said that he didn't think that he had ever seen the Wilmington Light Infantry and the Naval Reserves pass a more creditable inspection than the one last night, and that he was satisfied that the two companies were in fine shape and would be ready at any time called upon.

A speech was demanded of Lieut. McIlhenny, and he responded briefly but tersely.

About this time Lieut. White brought to mind that a repast was spread in the parlors across the hall, and those present repaired there, where refreshments, embracing things of a choice nature, were served. About midnight the party broke up, and another link to the long chain of hospitality of the W. L. I. had been forged.

At the Opera House.

The performance at the Opera House last night by the Georgia (colored) Minstrel Troupe was creditable in some of the specialties, but rather inferior as a whole. The singing, especially of the sentimental songs, was poor; the dancing good. The slack wire walking was very fine. The dress circle and gallery, set apart last night for the colored people, were crowded—the "standing room only" sign, for those parts of the house being put up prior to 8 o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Course.

There will be a rush at 12 o'clock today to reserve seats for the Y. M. C. A. entertainment course. Members of the association will present their membership cards for their seats and will have free admission. There still remain a few course tickets to be sold. A record will be kept of the seats reserved so that patrons may be sure of the seats chosen, even should the tickets be lost afterwards.

Magistrate's Court.

Justice Bunting disposed of two cases yesterday:

Archie Robinson, colored, charged with assault and battery, was adjudged guilty, but judgment was suspended upon payment of costs.

Delia Davis, colored, submitted to a charge of assault and battery and was let off upon payment of costs.

WILMINGTON MAY COME NEXT.

American Telephone and Telegraph Company May Add This City to its System.

The fact that Norfolk has recently become a subscriber to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, thereby securing speaking connection with seven thousand other cities all over the country, suggests the inquiry, When will Wilmington's turn come?

The company is running its lines southward, coming into Norfolk from Washington and Alexandria, and there would seem to be every reason to expect that Wilmington will be the next city to get the long distance connection.

Another line of the long distance telephones is in process of establishment through the central part of the country, and is completed as far South as Huntsville, Ala. In fact the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. are stringing their wires over the whole country, and there is little doubt that it will at no very distant day spring into sharp competition with the regular telegraph companies. It is claimed that their wires and poles are put up much more securely, and this claim finds its proof in the statement that in the September storm of this year the wires of the telephone company stayed up five hours longer, and after being finally blown down were put up a good deal sooner than those of the telegraph companies.

Foot Ball Game Friday.

Everybody who wishes to encourage athletic sports should not fail to see the foot ball game Friday between the Wilmington and Greensboro teams.

The Wilmington team has developed wonderfully in the last two weeks, and with the excellent coaching they have received it is easy to predict for them a victory over Greensboro.

This will be the first game of the season, and as the two teams are very nearly equal in strength promises to be very exciting.

The Wilmington team since its organization three years ago has made a record that any one would be proud of, having been defeated only twice in this time.

The boys have gone to considerable expense to arrange games to be played here, and hope to be rewarded by having a large crowd in attendance. They have adopted as their colors white and pink, and it is safe to say their colors will never be trailed in the dust.

MADE CONFESSION.

Ed. Purvis, the Murderer of Jas. Blackwell, the A. C. L. Flagman.

Ed. Purvis, the negro tramp in Cumberland county jail under death sentence for the murder of flagman James Blackwell, of the Atlantic Coast Line, has at last confessed to the commission of the crime.

The Fayetteville Observer of Monday afternoon says:

Purvis, the condemned murderer, has made a confession. He said yesterday to deputy sheriff King that if he had to be hung he was going to tell the whole truth about the matter, and that he would have told it upon his trial but that then he was suffering so much from his wound that he did not care what was done with him.

He said that the night of the murder he was drunk and that Ed. Lomax gave him the revolver and told him to shoot flagman Blackwell, and that he did shoot him.

G. P. A. of S. A. L.

It having been reported that Mr. T. J. Anderson, General Passenger Agent of the Seaboard Air Line, was to retire from that system, Mr. E. St. John has made the following announcement:

PORTSMOUTH, VA., Nov. 6th, 1897.

The report that has been currently circulated to the effect that Mr. T. J. Anderson, our general passenger agent, was soon to be succeeded is erroneous, without foundation and entirely unauthorized. E. ST. JOHN,

PROTECTION NOT NECESSARY

Whatever may have been thought as to the benefits of a protective policy, or even the earlier days of the Republic, when wages were much less than they are now, and the country was undeveloped, it is one of the most notorious facts bearing upon the comparative industrial situation of the two countries that American mechanics—chiefly because of their mechanical skill and partly because of the immense variety of their occupations—are offered superior advantages to those of the mechanics of such countries as Great Britain, and particularly than they can command in this country—are able to produce, ware for ware, a cheaper product than do the artisans of Great Britain. The qualitative superiority of the American mechanic may be doubted, but his quantitative superiority is not, and it is the latter which gives value to the former. Hence it is that the American mechanic is paid higher wages than the British mechanic, and that, while the latter is in fact the only one to justify keeping up the protective tariff, it is the former that is the only one to profit by it. Protection, then, has been the plea for high wages, and the cheaper labor of other countries has been the reason why the tariff should be reduced. But the fact is that the cheaper labor is cheaper than dear labor only when it produces cheaper work. Europe, when it was a century behind America in the use of machinery, could afford to pay low wages, because it could get only low results. But now that Europe has caught up with America in the use of machinery, the reason for low wages has disappeared, and the cheaper labor is dearer than the dear labor, because it produces more work in a given time. Protection, therefore, is not necessary now, for it has been made unnecessary by the very means which it was intended to foster. Protection was meant to build up manufactures, and it has done so. Now it is the manufactures that are building up protection, and they will soon be able to get along without it.

Last week's Baltimore Manufacturer says:

> Hon. Mark Hanna isn't out of the woods yet for it is said that those who are anti-Hanna Republicans thought they were going to defeat him. A prominent Republican who is a member of the Legislature which elected Mr. Hanna to the United States Senate, as the result of several visits to that country, and of hearing many arguments in favor of protection, that we oppose, is convinced that the case so well and so fully covers iron and steel makers, and showing the advantages which American labor has over foreign labor, that all other tariffs were abominable. I thought I had accomplished something of the kind in this country, but I was mistaken. I have been in Europe, and I am convinced that the case of the iron and steel makers is the strongest of all. I have not yet figured out the exact difference in the cost of production between the United States and Great Britain, but I am satisfied that it is at least as much, and in the majority of cases a little more than the duty. Of course, there are exceptions in other lines, but I am speaking of the general run of manufactures. The American mechanic is paid higher wages than the British mechanic, but he produces more than enough more to offset the higher wages. I have been in the iron-producing country in the world, and I am satisfied that the cheapest iron-producing country is the United States. I know a good deal of the conditions in Great Britain, and I am satisfied that all other tariffs were abominable when compared with the tariff on iron and steel.

The conference of the highest importance was held in L. C. Hanna's office in Cleveland on Saturday last. The conference was attended by Mr. Hanna, Senator Foraker, Senator Dick, John R. Mallory, secretary of the State Executive Committee, Colonel Charles Kurtz and the Postmaster. There were present Senator Hanna, Colonel

MAGDALEN COLLEGE.

Fair are the finen creature sounds. Of these
Is Magdalen rich—trebrian bees that drop
Within her cloister garth from woods atop.
And mend the priestless pulpit auguries
Of wrens in council, from a hundred leas,
And laughter of the Cherwell fish that stop
The water crowfoot's way, and deer that crop
Delicious herbage under cheral trees.

The cry for silver and gold in Christendom
Without threads not her silence and her dark.
Against the immemorial tower there break
But scalike rumors of good men to come,
And, through despairing hours, harmonious make
A rhythmic progress in the ears that hark.

SUNSET IN POST MEADOW.

The plain gives freedom. Hither from the town
How oft a dreamer and a book, of yore,
Escaped the punctual lamps and gauged no more
Shouts of the game from Cowley's border brown,
But let October ashes with spices drown
His head by Plays in the grass, before
You car that's never old, the sunset car,
Near Medley Lock was laid in music down!

Who loves the confines best and who the crowd
Water-toted Alice, nor felt his lax desire
Flitted once with light in space like this high driven.
Go happier than the inly moving cloud
Down to her vesture fall, a rose of fire,
Abstracted on the ivory hills of heaven.

A LUCKY FIND.

Tale of a Valuable Watch That Was Lost on an Elevated Railroad.

"This watch in itself is a valuable one," said a New York business man as he took the timepiece from the peculiar looking fob in which he carries it, "but it had an adventure last week that gives it a still greater value to me. The fob is an heirloom, and, as you may see, would be apt to attract attention anywhere.

"One afternoon last week I was going up town on a crowded train on the Sixth avenue elevated. The train was so crowded that I was compelled to stand on a car platform close to the brake wheel. As the train was rounding the curve out of West Third street I took my watch from my pocket, removed it from the fob, and, after noting the time, moved it back into the fob and returned it, as I thought, to the pocket. Instead of getting it into the pocket, however, it was on the outside, and as I let it go it fell. The guard saw it as it fell and reached out his foot to save it from going between the platforms, but failed, and down it went.

"I got off the train at Eighth street and ran back as fast as I could to the spot where the watch had dropped, having, I may of course say, not the slightest hope that the watch would be anywhere to be seen. When I reached the place my heart almost jumped out of my throat, for there in the street, conspicuous among its surroundings, lay the fob. I picked it up. It was empty. No watch could I find anywhere.

"'Some one has found it,' was naturally my conclusion, and that was the last I ever expected to hear or see of it.

"But as I walked back toward the Eighth street station I got to thinking about the matter differently. If any one had found the watch, why should he have left the fob? The more I thought of it the more I made up my mind that the watch hadn't been found. I boarded a train at Eighth street and went up town to the railroad headquarters. There I told of the singular thing that had happened to my watch, and the officer in charge told me that after the commissioners were over for the day the track walkers would start from Fifty-ninth street down the line, marking their particular inspection of the rails and roadbed, and he would instruct them to keep an eye out for the lost watch.

"'But,' said he, smiling, 'I guess you will have to come to the conclusion, after all, that some one else will tell the time by it hereafter if it hasn't been smashed to pieces by the fall.'

"Next day I went to the office. My watch was there. A track walker had discovered it by the light of his torch at midnight lying snugly on one of the girders or braces of the iron roadway beneath the tracks. The ring was sprung out of its place, as was the stem, and the watch was dead. There was a dent on the face of the timepiece, in falling the watch had struck in such a mysterious way as that it had been forced from the fob, which went on down to the street. Beyond this trifling damage I mentioned the watch was not injured in the slightest degree. If there ever was a luckier find than that, I never heard of it."—New York Sun.

Hat Shooting.

A visitor in Pass Christian, Miss., the other day heard some pistol shots and asked a negro boy what they meant. "Oh," was the reply, "them fellows dun be shootin fo' hats." "Shooting for hats!" exclaimed the visitor, "what on earth do you mean?" "Sure, dere is nuffin strange 'bout dat. They's doin it ebry day most. When de train is comin' dey 'jes' fires dem shots when she gets good on to de bridge, an de men day sticks dere heads out to see what's up, an de wind jes' takes dere hats off an drops 'em in de bay. Den dey row around an picks 'em up. Sometimes dey gets a lot of 'em. Other day Josh Johnson got eeben." "What does Josh Johnson do besides shoot for hats?" was asked. "Oh, he fishes an does odd jobs an dives."—New York Tribune.

A CURIOUS OLD CUSTOM.

Marriage Market at Whitsuntide In Russia Attracted Many Visitors.

A correspondent in the London Lady writes the following:

A curious custom connected with Whitsuntide used to prevail previous to and as late as the early half of the present century in Russia—namely, that of holding a public market, at which all the marriageable women were on view, with the sole object of forming matrimonial alliances with the many bachelors who attended this curious annual show in the hope of being able to select wives. It was always held in the afternoon of each Whit Sunday at the summer gardens in St. Petersburg, which is one of the most popular places of resort. Here the Russian girls who were anxious to find husbands used to assemble in great numbers, accompanied by their relatives and friends.

In a short time the gardens were filled with men who were on the lookout for wives and who walked about inspecting the different maidens, who were invariably dressed in the most becoming clothes they possessed, and all their jewelry. As a rule each maid-of-all-work had a large flower basket, or some other household article, of greater or lesser value. This was a device that she could bring conspicuously to the notice of her husband-to-be, and help to attract the fortunate passer-by up to the house.

When a young man saw a girl whom he thought likely to suit him and to make a good wife, or one with whose beauty he was struck, he entered into conversation with the different members of her family who surrounded her, or, if she had none, with the marriage broker or saleswoman, who for a small sum conducted all the business negotiations, with a view to finding out more about the maiden and the amount of her dowry. The latter being of such importance in the transaction, it often was the first and leading question, and if it proved satisfactory the rest of the business followed. The man stated his position in life and the amount of his worldly goods and gave his name and address to the girl's friends.

In the evening the girl and her friends retired and held a kind of family conclave, when the merits and demerits of each candidate were fully discussed and commented upon. The most eligible suitor was selected, and the girl was asked if she would decide to accept him. This was generally merely a formal observance, as all through the discussion the maiden had taken the prominent part herself, and, provided the man's worldly goods were sufficient for her liking, she agreed readily enough. If, however, she was difficult to please and would have nothing to do with any of the proposed suitors she had no alternative but to return to her home and wait until the following Whitsuntide and again attend the market, hoping some one more to her fancy might appear next time. This, however, was seldom the case, and it was not often that the same candidate appeared two years running in the summer gardens on Whit Sunday.

A correspondent, writing in 1861, who had been present at one of these annual markets, said that in spite of the custom having been at one time very general it was by that date slowly dying out, and that there were comparatively few candidates for marriage that year, and he thought the custom must eventually be totally abandoned. He attributed this to the influence of outside European opinions and tastes, which were gradually spreading all over the different parts of Russia.

A MATTER OF CHOICE.

A Youth Who Had a Preference and Risked His Life on It.

A Capitol hill man has a son about 20 years old, and the young fellow is very nearly a chip off the old block.

One day last winter the son went to visit friends and relatives among the snow clad hills of Vermont and, of course, while there put in as much of his time in a sleigh as he could, because he knew the Washington climate was not conducive to that sort of amusement and he wouldn't have any opportunity.

Perhaps it is needless to remark that whenever he went sleighing he took with him one of those pretty, pink cheeked girls for which Vermont is justly famous.

And as far as possible he took a new one every time.

Such is man at 20—and later.

The bicycle cannot be taken to the wall in other than its proper form, and it happened in the case of the Capitol Hill laddie that on one of his trips his horse ran away with him, and, not being the most expert driver in the world, he was almost at the mercy of the frightened animal. For a mile or more he managed to keep the horse in the road, but beyond were a hill and a stream, with a narrow bridge over it just at a turn of the road, which could only be taken at a slower pace. The girl called his attention to this and nervously suggested that they jump out, but he wouldn't have it so and assured her that he would be responsible.

That sounded well, but when they approached the turn the horse would not stay in the road, and, dropping the lines, the young fellow grabbed the girl and waited for the end, whatever it might be. In a minute more the entire combination flew the track and landed in a snow bank 20 feet deep. Some people who saw the accident fished them all out, and for a wonder nobody was much hurt, though the sleigh was damaged.

When the youth's father heard the story, he was indignant.

"Why, you young jack," he exclaimed, "what in thunder did you drop those lines for? You might have known what would have happened."

"Well, pop," he replied sheepishly, "I couldn't hold the horse, and I could hold the girl, and what else was there to do?"—Washington Star.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 10

M'KINLEY'S CABINET.

Spain's Reply to the Woodford Note Regarded as Very Satisfactory—Plans for Relief of the Behring Sea Whaling Fleet.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 9.—The full text of Spain's reply to the Woodford note was read at the cabinet meeting to-day. Its tone is very pacific, and instead of being at all warlike, was regarded by the cabinet as very satisfactory and as calculated to allay any fear of a hostile outbreak.

The cabinet also gave consideration to the icebound Behring sea whaling fleet. Two plans have been decided upon, one to send the Bear from Seattle, which cannot be got ready for two weeks, and another to send the Thrasher, a whaling vessel now at San Francisco. This latter determination was reached after the receipt of a telegram by Secretary Long from the commandant of the Mare island navy yard.

The Thrasher can be provisioned at once and sent immediately on her mission. It is stated that there is a very good supply of provisions at Point Barrow, and another supply at Herschel island, so that at least three vessels well-supplied with provisions will winter in the Arctic. The location of the reindeer in Alaska, which are wanted for transportation, is not known, but it is believed a supply can be obtained.

RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION.

Report of Gen. Wade Hampton, Late Commissioner of Railroads.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 9.—General Wade Hampton, who has just been succeeded by General Longstreet as commissioner of railroads, has submitted to the Interior Department his report for the past fiscal year. He says that the year reached the low water-mark of railway construction. During the year thirty-four companies, with 5,441 miles of road, passed into the hands of the courts and fifty-eight others, previously placed in receivership, were sold at foreclosure. A steady improvement in railroad earnings during the first six months of the current year is noted, an improvement apparent in the bond-aided Pacific roads. The outlook in the West generally for the present year is reported very encouraging. Gen. Hampton, though disclaiming any attempt to criticise the course of the Government in the Union Pacific matter, says he also has believed that a settlement more advantageous to the Government could be obtained if all the companies, including the Union and Central Pacific, could be negotiated with at the same time through a commission, to be appointed by the President, and possibly all in the same way, than by settling at different times and on a different basis. Government ownership or operation under Government supervision, he says, would be not only a doubtful but a dangerous experiment which probably would result disastrously to the Government.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY CO.

Petition for Appointment of a Receiver to be Heard To-day in Macon, Georgia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MACON, November 9.—The hearing on the petition of the Dunlap Hardware Company et al. against the Southern Railway, application for receivership, will take place before Judge Speers in this city to-morrow. The petition alleges that the Southern Railway Company, by its ownership and control of the Central Railway, the Southwestern Railway and the Georgia Southern and Florida, is acting in direct conflict with the constitution of the State of Georgia, which prohibits the control of one railroad by another for the purpose of stifling competition. The charge is made that Macon's business is seriously impeded by the ownership of the Southern. The petition asks that the Southern Railway be perpetually enjoined from the control of these roads and that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the stock owned by the Southern Railway in the competing lines. Ex-Senator George F. Edmunds, of Vermont, is counsel for the Southern Railway Company.

NOT ANXIOUS FOR WAR.

Prime Minister Sagasta Says Spain Would Regard It as a Great Misfortune.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MADRID, Nov. 9.—In response to a cable message from a non-official American source, Senor Sagasta, the Premier, has sent the following cable dispatch through Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish Minister at Washington:

"So far from seeking a pretext to declare war against the United States, Spain would regard it as a great misfortune to being given the occasion for such an unhappy resolution. Animated as she is by the most amicable sentiments toward the great Republic, Spain hopes of America that the latter will do its utmost to fortify sentiments of friendship for the sake and welfare of both countries, while at the same time respecting the rights of Spain."

ROBBERY AT MOCKSVILLE.

The Safe in the Postoffice Blown Open and Three Hundred Dollars in Money and Stamps Taken.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, November 9.—The safe in the Mocksville postoffice was blown open last night and robbed of $300, half the amount being in money and the other half in stamps. The safe was a complete wreck. The robbers failed to get the registered letters, which were found this morning badly scorched by powder.

After committing the robbery, the parties stole the section master's lever car on the Mocksville railroad and rode it out near the Davis School, just west of Winston. It was found this morning lying near the railroad track. The safe-blowers cut the telegraph wire in two places to prevent any message being sent out after them.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

Further Reduction Made in the Prices of Printed Goods.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 9.—The dry goods market shows no sign of strength over the record of yesterday and last week. Further reductions in the price of printed goods have been made. Report comes from Fall River that the manufacturers have all but decided upon a reduction in wages. The market for staple cottons continues dull. In coarse colored cottons there is also a weakening in the market with an exceedingly light demand recorded. Print cloths are still quoted at 2-5 16c; but the bids were for small lots of extras, at 2¼ which were refused by manufacturers.

SINGLE GOLD STANDARD

MEETING OF THE NATIONAL LEAGUE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Reports Not Very Flattering for the Gold Bugs—No Encouragement as to the Situation in Missouri—Overwhelming Majorities for Free Silver Expected in Arkansas, Nebraska and the South and West Generally.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 9.—The semi-annual meeting of the executive committee of the National Sound Money League was begun here to-day. There were present President George E. Leighton, St. Louis; General Secretary E. V. Smalley, Henry Villard, Gustavus H. Schwarb, J. Kennedy Todd, H. P. Robinson, Edwin Burritt Smith, J. K. Cowen, M. E. Ingalls, J. W. Norwood, W. C. Cornwell and Treasurer A. B. Hepburn.

General Secretary Smalley read a communication from M. C. George, vice president for Oregon, who wrote that he was with the League in all the great questions relating to the currency, and realizes the necessity for aggressive work. As to the State, in many places the League would find it honeycombed with financial ignorance and error. The light, he said, should be made to shine in all the dark places. On motion of Mr Ingalls, of Cincinnati, it was voted to appropriate $1,000 to aid Mr. George in spreading the light in Oregon.

J. K. Cowen, of Baltimore, reported that things were satisfactory in his territory, and added that Maryland did not need any financial aid from the national league.

J. Sterling Morton, vice president of the league for Nebraska, wrote: "Mr Bryan and his disciples are actively engaged in a propaganda of money fallacies. They have united in one conglomorate all the fanatics, bigots and idiots in this State for the purpose of upholding the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. It is very painful to observe that this aggregation may quite possibly make a majority of 20 000 at the coming election for candidates who represent all that is inimical and disastrous to agriculture, and in fact to sound government everywhere."

Judge W. M. Reese, vice president of the league for Arkansas, wrote: "There is no change in this State. There is an overwhelming majority for free silver and Bryanism in every Congressional district."

Charles F. Libby, president of the League from Maine, wrote in part: "So far as Maine is concerned, I do not think that the silver question will be an issue in the Congressional campaign next year."

James L. Blair, of St. Louis, wrote: "On the whole I cannot say that I feel encouraged over the situation in Missouri."

Wm. C. Cornwell, of Buffalo, reported that as far as he could ascertain, both in the eastern and western parts of the State the free silver sentiment was rapidly dying out.

Louis Ehrich, of Colorado Springs, reported that nothing but better times can bring about a change in the free silver sentiment in Colorado. "The only thing to affect the West," he said, "is better times and I would now suggest that the league come out boldly and ask the President of the United States to proclaim the gold standard as the money basis of the country."

President Leighton thought it highly inexpedient for the league to commit itself on this point at the present time.

M. E Ingalls, of Cincinnati, said: "The result of the recent campaign shows conclusively that the South will again drift back to the Democracy and free silver." Continuing, he said that "the great danger now is in the tendency to drift into a new banking house law, which to the country will be fraught with danger."

On motion of H. P. Robinson, of Chicago, it was resolved that a committee be appointed to receive and consider the report of the monetary commission when it is made and to call a meeting of the executive committee if it is considered necessary that action be taken thereon.

A committee, comprising Louis A. Ehrich, Mr. Leighton, Secretary Smalley, Gustavus H. Schwab and Wm. C. Cornwell, was appointed to prepare a declaration for international bimetallism, to the effect that bimetallism is dead and that gold should be the standard of the country.

A recess was then taken.

Before re-assembling the members of the committee said that President McKinley had stated his intention of recommending in his message to Congress the advisability of separating the issue department of the Treasury from the regular Government expense accounts.

In other words, it will be proposed to hold the gold reserve as a redemption fund for greenbacks and to make the gold and greenbacks interchangable. It was said that President McKinley had spoken freely on Monday with a prominent official of the National Sound Money League on this question.

The next meeting of the League will be held in Washington during January, 1898.

YELLOW FEVER SITUATION.

Continued Improvement at New Orleans—Business Brightening—The Record of New Cases and Deaths.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., November 9—The Board of Health reports to-day one new case in Oakley, but none in the city and no deaths.

Flomation reports three new cases, eighty in all, and not a death. Sixty-seven have been discharged.

NEW ORLEANS November 9.—Yellow fever continues on the decrease, as to-day's record indicates, and the Board of Health is elated over the prospects of an early termination of a scare which has so badly crippled commerce. Matters have been very quiet in and about the Board of Health office for several days past. The working forces have been reduced to a minimum, and there is an abundance of work for those retained. The business situation continues to brighten. Six new cases are reported to-day, and four deaths.

MOBILE, ALA., November 9.—The report for to-day shows a slight increase in the number of new cases, the result of unusually warm weather experienced since the 4th of the month. The list of recoveries is large, and it has been for the past three days. There are six new cases to day, and two deaths.

The report from Whistler is that there are sixteen new cases there.

MEMPHIS, TENN., November 9.—There has not been a case of yellow fever or death from that disease in Memphis for thirty-six hours, and no prospects of new cases are reported.

The Little Rock quarantine against Memphis was raised to-day, but no reference was made to New Orleans or other infected points.

The birthday of the Prince of Wales was celebrated in London yesterday with the usual flag hoisting, bell ringing and artillery salutes. He was born November 9th, 1841.

THE GULDENSUPPE MURDER.

Second Day of the Trial of Martin Thorn, one of the Alleged Murderers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 9.—Punctuality seems to be the watchword of every one concerned in the trial of Martin Thorn, one of the alleged murderers of William Guldensuppe, which began yesterday morning in the Queens County court house.

Promptly at 10 o'clock this morning District Attorney William J. Youngs, his assistants and the lawyers for the defence, were in their places, and the prosecutor began his opening address. Martin Thorn handcuffed to Captain McIven, and escorted by a constable, was brought into court a few minutes before the district attorney began speaking. Twenty witnesses were summoned for examination to-day and the district attorney took them one by one just as the finding of the different portions of the body opened up to the public the fact that a terrible crime had been committed.

At 4 o'clock all the witnesses who had been summoned to court for examination had given their testimony, and as there were no more available the prosecution asked for an adjournment until to-morrow morning. The court granted the request. It is expected that the greater part of the testimony to-morrow will be that of an anatomical expert who will be produced by the people to prove that the parts belongs to the same body, and also, if possible, to prove the cause of death. The district attorney believes that he can prove these things to the satisfaction of the jury, after which he intends to convince the court and jurors that the headless body which was so savagely dismembered is none other than that of the missing bath-rubber, William Guldensuppe.

NEW YORK, November 9.—The Herald to-morrow will say: "Emanuel Friend counsel for Mrs. Augusta Nack, was at the Harlem Opera House last night. It was noticed when he came into the lobby that he appeared nervous and excited. His extreme nervousness caused some comment, and he remarked casually that he had just come from a long interview with his client, Mrs. Nack. He sat half the play through and on coming out said:

"Mrs. Nack has confessed. That is all I can say. She has confessed and will go on the stand to-morrow against Thorn. I cannot talk about the matter any further. I have made a solemn promise of secrecy. There is no use trying to see any one else. Even Mr. Howe does not know. The few others who do know are pledged to secrecy, as I am. I shall go home, disconnect my telephone and refuse to answer any questions. Mrs. Nack has made a full confession. That's all I can say."

GEORGIA INSANE ASYLUM.

The Negro Section Destroyed by Fire—No Lives Lost—Damage Estimated at $100,000.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., November 9.—The negro section of the Georgia insane asylum was burned to-day. There were within the walls at the time the fire broke out, inmates and all, over seven hundred persons, but no lives were lost. The group of buildings constituting this section covered about four acres. Portions of the section were saved but the major part was gutted. The asylum water service was excellent and was reinforced by engines from the fire department of Macon, thirty miles away, which were brought here on a special train. Dr. Powell, superintendent of the asylum, estimates the loss at about $100,000, including buildings and furniture, upon which there is insurance of fifty per cent. There were room enough in the other buildings to temporarily care for those who were dislodged by the fire. The Legislature of Georgia is now in session and prompt relief will be granted the asylum.

IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

United Daughters of the Confederacy Will Meet To-day in Baltimore.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BALTIMORE, MD., November 9.—The annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will begin in this city to-morrow, and will probably be in session three days. The sessions will be held at Lehmann's hall, and will be presided over by the president, Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, of Virginia.

The association was formed three years ago, and now has 140 chapters—embracing all of the Southern and some of the Western and Northern States. It is expected that all of the chapters will be represented at the convention.

It is thought that at the convention the grand division of Virginia will be admitted as a body. Mrs. M. M. Garnette is president of the grand division.

The officers of the national association are: Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, president; Mrs. D. C. Wright and Mrs. Augustine T. Smythe, vice presidents; Mrs. Jno. P. Hickman, recording secretary; Miss Kate Mason Rowland, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. Jefferson Thomas, treasurer.

THE WAR IN INDIA.

A British Officer and Thirty-five Men Killed by Tribesmen.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

SIMLA, November 9.—The report that an officer and thirty five Sikhs belonging to the Kurram column have been intercepted by tribesmen in a ravine and slaughtered, is officially confirmed. It appeared that they were assisting in a reconnoissance up the Kurmana river. Taking a short cut down a hill they came to a ravine where the grass of the jungle was burning. The flames spread so rapidly as to completely cut off their retreat, and the tribesmen, seeing their predicament, swarmed on the higher ground, hurled down rocks upon them and closed around them until the whole thirty-six were shot or cut down. The Sikhs fought heroically to the last, their officer killing two rebel chiefs before he fell.

THE LUETGERT TRIAL.

Second Hearing Will Not be Called Within Six Weeks.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, November 9.—Former Judge Vincent who conducted the defence it the first trial of Adolph L. Luetgert has withdrawn from the case. Private business affairs were given as the cause of his withdrawal, Attorney Paalen who was associated with Judge Vincent during the famous trial, and who to-day announced the latter's withdrawal, will conduct the defence at the second hearing which, however, will not be called within six weeks.

MAIL STAGE ROBBED.

About $400 in Money and Valuables Taken by Highwaymen.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

GUTHRIE, OKA., November 9.—The mail stage running between Cheyenne and Canadan was held up to-day by highwaymen, who rifled the mail pouches and secured about $400 in money and valuables. James Wilson, the stage driver, has been arrested for supposed complicity in the robbery.

Mr. L. P. Rout, of Richmond, Va., has brought suit against T. D. Hooper & Co., bankers and brokers of No. 20 Broadway, New York, for $50,000 damages for non-performance of contract.

MISS NORA COLE'S ASSAILANT TAKEN TO ROCKINGHAM.

A Military Escort to Prevent Lynching—Supreme Court Decisions—Senator Butler Admits He Rides on Free Passes—The Cumnock Mining Property Sale—Illicit Distillery Seized.

[Special Star Correspondence.]

RALEIGH, N. C., November 9.

Mr. R. T. Gray returned from Richmond, Va., this morning, where he attended the special hearing at chambers before Judge Purnell as to the confirmation of the sale of the Cumnock mining property. There was no increase over the bid for the mining property and it will, of course, be confirmed. Mr. H. A. London increased the bid made on the town property fifty per cent. A check for $500 was deposited as an evidence of good faith. The court will no doubt order another sale of the town property.

An illicit still of fifty gallons capacity was taken at Clayton, Johnston county, this morning by Deputies Gibson and Shelbourn. There were twenty-one hogs at the still. They were not disturbed.

Early this morning, about 4 o'clock, a two story house on South Blount street was destroyed by fire. It belonged to Henry Christmas, colored. The loss was about $800.

Messrs. W. F. French and T. A. McNeill, of Lumberton, were among to-day's arrivals.

T. H. Chavasse is given a place as travelling passenger agent of the S. A. L.

The Supreme Court handed down the following opinions:

Robinson vs. Sampson, from Wayne; no error.

Banking Company vs. Dake, from Durham; error.

Bank vs. Carr, from Durham; affirmed.

B. & L. Co. vs. Carr; affirmed.

Sherman vs. Simpson, from Pender; affirmed.

Manufacturing Company vs. Gray, from Jones; affirmed.

Fleming vs. McPhail, from Sampson; dismissed for failure to print.

Weil vs. Flowers, from Duplin; affirmed.

Jones vs. Bost, from Greene; affirmed.

Hicks vs. Westbrook, from Pender; affirmed.

Meares vs. Davis, from New Hanover; affirmed.

Faison vs Williams, from Greene, affirmed.

John Evans, the negro charged with raping Miss Nora Cole, will be carried to Rockingham to-night to stand trial. The Governor detailed twenty members of the Governor's Guard to act as an escort, upon the advice of Judge McIver and the sheriff, who said there is a strong sentiment in favor of lynching Evans.

Senator Butler admits in the Caucasian that he rides on free passes in newspaper capacity.

STORM ON THE LAKES.

Steamer Idaho and Other Vessels Wrecked—Several Lives Lost.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DETROIT, MICH, November 9—A special to the News from Sand Beach, Mich., says: With her rudder gone and a northwest gale blowing forty miles an hour, the steamer John C. Pringle is drifting down the lake at the mercy of the waves. The steamer with three barges in tow, bound down, was noticed outside the harbor this morning flying signals of distress.

The tug boat Boynton, with the life-savers, went to her assistance. The tug got a line to the disabled steamer twice, but each time it parted. The seas then became so heavy that the Boynton was forced to give it up. The life-savers are staying with the Pringle. The barges are apparently all right, and have sailed on down the lake. The Pringle and tow are lumber laden.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Captain Neil, of the steamer Thomas Carnegie, which arrived here to-day, reports that when off Long Point his vessel passed close to two floating bodies, supposed to be from the wrecked steamer Idaho. They were quickly lost in the darkness. Captain Neil also reports passing wreckage of various description.

HAVANA ADVICES

A Small Insurgent Force Surrendered to the Spanish—An Engagement With Maximo Gomez Reported.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

HAVANA, Nov. 9.—An official dispatch from Alfonzo XIII, province of Matanzas, announces the surrender to the Spanish authorities of an insurgent force consisting of three officers and fifteen privates, who delivered up thirty carbines. The insurgent officers who have surrendered are Col. Evaristo Leon, Major Guadeloupe Herrara and Capt. Carlos Cephero. It is semi officially announced that Gen. Maximo Gomez has been attempting to concentrate the insurgent forces near Remedios, the principal Northern port of the province of Santa Clara, and it is added that he was engaged by a Spanish force, with the result that the insurgents left nine men killed on the field.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The General Assembly in Session at Louisville, Ky.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LOUISVILLE, KY., November 9.—The general assembly of the Knights of Labor was called to order in Hibernian hall this morning at 10 o'clock by Grand Master J. R. Sovereign.

Among the delegates are a number of the most prominent leaders of the movement in this as well as other countries.

The convention will get down to hard work to-morrow.

Rather a Big Prisoner.

During the maneuvers of the troops at Aldershot and elsewhere a good deal of supposition has of necessity "come in." Sometimes, for the purpose of instruction, bodies of stationary troops have been merely indicated, and amusing incidents have now and again resulted. On one occasion a young officer charged down upon an apparently isolated man on the opposite force. The man made no attempt to escape, but stood quietly holding a long staff with a board nailed thereon.

"You're my prisoner," said the officer with the body of cavalry.

"Beg pardon, sir," returned the isolated one. "I'm a brigade!"

Fortunately there was no umpire looking just then, so the body of cavalry rapidly headed for a less dangerous part of the country, while the "brigade" was left grinning alone.—Pearson's Weekly.

Salad Dressing.

A very delicious salad dressing for those who do not like the taste of oil is: One beaten egg and a teaspoonful each of sugar, salt and mustard rubbed smooth. Add 8 teaspoonfuls of vinegar, and cook in a double boiler to a thick custard. After taking from the fire thin to the proper consistency with cream. —New York Post.
